URGES ACTION TO AVOID HARDENING OF BUCKS ARTERIES

Wild Foresees "Choking" In Lower Bucks Unless Planning is Done

O. K. SUB-DIVISIONS

Among Them is The Becker Farms, Located in Bensalem Township

DOYLESTOWN, May 8—Predicting a case of "hardening of the arteries" for the main highways of lower Bucks county, with resultant "choking" of such travel arteries unless steps to forestall such are taken at once, Carl Wild suggested to Bucks County Planning Commission that some definite planning be done. Mr. Wild, consultant, spoke at the meeting of the commission held here Tuesday.

Mr. Wild added: "Provisions must be made to require a greater setback of commercial places along the important routes of traffic." He emphasized the fact that there is a higher rate of accidents where dairy and other eating places, and theatres are not set back sufficient distance from highways.

Mr. Wild urged that local officials encourage zoning and demand that business places not be allowed to build right up to the edge of the road.

Pointing out there is no zoning in Falls, Bensalem, Upper Southampton, Wrightstown and that Bristol township is in the process of adopting a zoning code, Mr. Wild said: "Falls township has much of its land accounted for already. Bensalem township needs it most and much of Falls has also been taken by industry or housing.

"Along Routes 1 and 13, which will take care of population the size of a city like Harrisburg, about 100,000, care must be exercised in the placing of new business places and commercial sites.

"State police and other law enforcement officials agree that there are more accidents near the drive-in theatres and big dairy places where motorists are constantly backing in and out than where the places are not located too close to the highways," Consultant Wild urged.

The new link of the Pennsylvania Turnpike across lower Bucks county was termed a barrier particularly so far as the schools are concerned. Dr. Charles H. Boehm, county superintendent, and his staff are already consulting about new bus and school routes because the turnpike with its few openings will make revision of the school bus routes necessary.

"The turnpike with its two interchanges in Bucks county upsets the cluster for school districts," said Wild.

Russell V. Black, New Hope,RD, widely-known planning expert in this section of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, will be employed as an associate consultant at a salary of $2500 subject to the approval of the Pennsylvania State Planning Commission.

Mr. Wild also urged the possibility of getting financial aid for work to be done by the U. S. Geological Survey.

Franklin C. Wood, executive director of the county planning commission, announced that meetings are being held with township zoning officers and township supervisors in order to coordinate all activities.

In the absence of the chairman,

Only 34 of Bucks County Military Ballots "Count"

DOYLESTOWN, May 8—Only 43 of the requested 56 military ballots for Bucks County servicemen were returned in the last primary election, it has been revealed. Seven of these were too late to count, and two could not be properly identified as to districts.

Thus, only 34 of the voters involved had ballots that really "counted" in the primary.

So far, 56 applications have been received by Clerk Harold Hellyer, of the county elections committee, for ballots to vote at the general election.

Of the 43 returned military ballots at the primary election, Eisenhower received 23; Stassen, 5; Taft, 1; Warren, 1.

All told, there were 1,600 military ballots printed for the primary election in Bucks county.

SURGEON EXAMINES MAN DURING TRIAL

Jury Excused in Order That Physician Might Check Frederick Harms

6 YEARS' TREATMENT

DOYLESTOWN May 8—An Abington Hospital surgeon, Dr. Fletcher Sain, examined the leg of a plaintiff, Frederick Harms, West Bristol, on Monday during a civil court trial, here.

Because Harms, the plaintiff, is suing his brother-in-law, Joseph Nagle, Bristol twp., in connection with injuries received in an automobile accident, and had not seen the Abington Hospital bone surgeon for some time the examination and prognosis was allowed by Judge Edward G. Biester.

The plaintiff, Harms, removed his brace on his left leg and Judge Biester excused the jury while Dr. Sain made the examination. Dr. Sain, on the witness stand, following the examination, testified that bone grafting is recommended and that the plaintiff, a tall, husky man, will not be able to walk without assistance because his leg will bend in the middle, toward the outside."

The plaintiff was under the care of doctors and hospital surgeons for more than six years. His surgeon's bill was $725. "Dozens of doctors and surgeons worked on Harms," testified Dr. Sain.

Harms, a former pipe fitter, was injured Dec. 21, 1946, near Pipersville on the Gardenville-Pipersville road. He had gone with his brother-in-law, Nagle, for a ride near

TARIFFS VS. SUBSIDIES

(In Two Parts: Part I)

This country's foreign trade is getting deeper and deeper into trouble.

Exports are falling off, imports are rising, and both factors are hitting American labor where it hurts, which is their pocketbooks—that is to say, their living standards.

Prosperity in manufacturing is a matter of markets. That is true of other lines which we sometimes don't think of as being manufacturing, but which really are; farming, for example, which from the point of view of economics means "manufacturing" foodstuffs and other essentials out of raw materials.

No greater fallacy ever existed that the pre-Civil war concept, upon which was founded the still-active theories of free-trade, that there is a fundamental distinction between industry and agriculture. Basicly they are both production activities, manufacturing businesses. They flourish under the same kind of treatment, thrive under similar atmospheres of government, and wither under the same poisons of false economics.

Among the products where exports are declining, and hence reducing the markets and future incomes of American working people, are some which are agricultural and some which are industrial. The list includes: tobacco, agricultural implements, feed and fertilizer, oil and oil products, coal, cotton, textiles, wheat, other grains.

Item by item is being added to the already long list where imports have carved into American production, shortening down American payrolls, reducing American workers' incomes.

Most publicized American industry being crucified to benefit a foreign country is the watch industry, which has been driven to the wall by uncontrolled one-sided competition from Switzerland. Why can the Swiss under-sell Americans in the watch business? Two reasons: first, Swiss government subsidies of the industry; second, cheaper labor. The Swiss employe has next to none of the expensive social securities American labor enjoys, and his living standards are infinitely lower, so that his wages are only a fraction of the American levels.

Glassware and china and pottery are in the same catergory. Competition with American concerns, paying higher wages, is wholly one-sided. So with many other lines—cameras, fishing tackle, wool, various other textiles, a host of farm products ranging from eggs to grain.

A new wave of competition is headed this way—big-scale production from Japan. More and more Japanese articles will

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The Allied package proposal for a Korean truce was fully supported by this country, President Truman said in amplifying statements by Secretary Acheson and Deputy Defense Secretary Foster that the "all or nothing" plan was also endorsed by other members of the United Nations. "We will not buy an Armistice by turning over human beings for slaughter or slavery," the President said in explaining why forced repatriation of prisoners "would be unthinkable." There was no change in the deadlock in talks at Panmunjom.

Soviet Russia was charged by Secretary Acheson with perpetrating an "international crime" in talking peace but supplementing a "hate America" propaganda campaign with a "hate Americans" line.

East Germany's Communist leaders announced they were forming an army to resist "aggression."

Foreign Secretary Eden rejected a Labor demand that West German rearming be deferred until after four-power talks with the Soviet Union.

Prime Minister Churchill changed the composition of his British Cabinet.

A $6,901,100,000 mutual security fund bill was reported by a House committee with provisions to shift $1,000,000,000 in materiel to foreign countries and to earmark a similar sum for "off-shore" procurement.

Controls on installment credit buying were suspended by the Federal Reserve Board, which asked Congress to continue authority to reimpose curbs if necessary. Manly Fleischmann resigned as Defense Production Administrator, effective at the end of May.

A Senate inquiry ordered public hearings to start Monday on Senator Benton's charges against Senator McCarthy.

Senator Kefauver emerged as the hero of Tuesday's primary elections. He upset the Ohio Democratic organization by winning half of the state's convention delegates while Senator Taft captured all Republican delegates. In Florida the Kefauver vote was regarded as impressive although victory went to Senator Russell, States' Rights' advocate, who had been been backed by the political machine.

53 Men Attending Fire School at Fairless Hills

The 18 weeks course is proving most popular, according to John H. O'Hear, president of the group.

The firemen are being trained in use of various type fire extinguishers, in knot tying as applied to hoisting fire equipment, drills on loading and unloading hose from trucks, handling ladders, removing people from buildings by ladders and other means, etc.

Three of the fire hydrants in the "Hills" are to be re-placed, due to the fact the fittings were the wrong size. These had been installed before the fire engine was purchased.

STAGGERING OF HOURS WILL BE TRAFFIC AID

Only 1/3 of Regular Workers To Leave The Fairless Plant at One Time

BERDIS IS SPEAKER

FALLSINGTON, May 8—The talk made by Albert J. Berdis, general superintendent of Fairless Works, U. S. Steel Co., before Falls Twp. Civic Association, last evening, was of an informal nature. Mr. Berdis, in addition to discussing the planned staggering of hours for employees to alleviate, as much as possible, the "choking" of lower Bucks county highways at certain periods, told of the types of workers being added.

Once the construction work is completed the traffic problem will be alleviated, Mr. Berdis informed.

The majority of the construction workers start their tasks at 8.20, and "sign off" at 4.20. "But when this job is completed not more than one-third of the 6,000 regular workers will leave or report at the same time," he advised.

The 500 men who have been brought to the Fairless Works by the firm are "management-key men, hand-picked," he advised. Later there will be about 500 "key workers," this group including foremen and specialists, already starting to move in. The remainder will be hired from this general area, he stated.

"The company feels very deeply its responsibility of being a good citizen," he said. "We've gone to extremes in an effort to be a good neighbor."

"Looking forward to the future when this project is completed, all of us, individuals as well as groups, will find that we have all benefited from this vast development here," he said.

Over 100 attended the meeting, and the group also enjoyed selections by the "Hungry Four," a Newtown quartet.

Later the executive committee and guests were entertained at the home of Karl Ottolini, Tyburn road, president of the association.

It was reported that $15 has been sent to the World Friends fund this year. This group will see that each mother is presented with a flower on Mother's Day.

The Fellowship will be represented at the youth banquet of Phila. Conference on May 17th, in Asbury Methodist Church, Phila., by Richard Forsyth, Margery Coale, Gertrude Hauler, Ethel Keller, Dorothy Carr, Carl Homan, "Betty" Clark, Helen Riley, Doris Muschert, Jean Rempfer and Mary Keller.

ONLY HANDFUL ATTEND MEETING TO DISCUSS TAXES

Two Speakers Say Education is Very Important on Equalization

REVALUATION NEEDED

Value To Be Price Willing Buyer Will Pay Willing Seller

"Education of the resident taxpayers about the meaning and benefits of a tax equalization program is one of the first steps that must be taken before a program led by a citizens committee, in conjunction with the assessors, can be successfully undertaken," stated John N. O'Neil, chairman of the State Tax Equalization Board, last evening.

An overwhelming majority of area residents remained uneducated as O'Neil spoke to a meager group of community leaders at the Bracken Post Hall of the American Legion, on Radcliffe street, last evening. There were less than 50 people in attendance, including at least five Bristol Borough councilmen, school board members, area assessors, tax collectors and businessmen, while the general public remained at home. "The meeting was planned by a committee representing the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, the Mill Street Business Men's Association and the Lower Bucks County CIO organization, for the purpose of enlightening the public with the facts concerning tax equalization," said Burgess Hetherington.

O'Neil and George E. Fox, Director of Research of the State Tax Equalization Board, had journeyed from Harrisburg to address the group. In summary, what they said concerning tax equalization was that all property would be revalued at what a willing buyer would pay a willing seller. This figure is the real market value of the property and will change through time and influences. With assessments higher there will be a broader tax base and it will be possible to lower the millage rate, while still getting more taxing power over outside sources and permitting municipal governments and school boards to borrow more.

Burgess I. Johnston Hetherington acted as host with Alfred E. Lewis, president of the Bristol Borough School Board. Burgess Hetherington stated in his opening remarks that "the equalization of taxes is a paramount issue in the state. Our local area is no exception. The future of this area depends entirely on the equalization of taxes."

Hetherington continued: "I believe it will be impossible for the assesors, no matter how willing and capable, to accomplish this job in a short space of time. I sympathize with Elwood Britton in his position as first chief assessor of Bucks County. I hope that the results of this meeting will be the formation of a taxpayers association, which will work in conjunction with the local assessors.

Hetherington introduced Paul Tomlinson, a representative of the Lower Bucks County CIO, who stated: "We are wholeheartedly behind this movement and any other movement for the benefit of the community."

Mr. Lewis was introduced and he stated: "A very small minority of the people in Bristol know what is going on." Lewis offered the example of the school board budget, which not one citizen came to inspect while it was on display, as proof of his statement.

O'Neil and Fox were introduced by Lewis. Hetherington had referred to them earlier as "the two top men in their branch of state government, who very few communities, large or small, in the entire state have had the privilege of having them both on the same stage at the same time."

"Mr. Fox will speak to you concerning the technical side of the tax equalization and then I will speak to you, not as a state official, but rather as an ex-county commis-

WHEN BOOKS ARE "HOT"

Making books that pay off at pari-mutuel prices is, from a legal rather than a profit standpoint, an increasingly risky business. So can be the mere holding of stainless books, if they happen to be old and rare enough, as the Pequot Library Association in the little village of Southport, Conn., concluded.

It had, standing for the most part on open shelves, a collection of 3,000 old volumes and manuscripts given to it by the Rev. William Holman, who was 43 years collecting them and spent but $15,229; though it was said that many years ago an offer of $500,000 was made for the collection. But the risk of loss and theft was felt to be so great that the Holman gift has been lent in its entirety to Yale University library.

An authentic letter by Christopher Columbus in 1493 upon his return from the New World is one of the treasures. So is an undated letter by Henry VII of England. Inevitably in such a collection as this there is some dross among the gold, and doubtless many books are duplicates of those on the Yale library's own shelves. The danger at Southport was more from loss than from theft. An individual might steal a book for his own library, but the most valuable books and manuscripts are collectors' items known to dealers everywhere.

A sneak thief trying to dispose of one through regular channels might find a detective standing at his back before he was through haggling with the dealer over the price.

THE GREAT HEGIRA

The season of the annual hegira, when it seems everyone gets in an automobile and heads for strange roads, is here, its arrival unheralded and unsung as usual. Each year, come May, the number of automobiles on the highways decorated with tags from other states takes a spurt. The tourist season, as such, is no longer what it formerly was. Tourists take to the wide open spaces every month of the year, with heaviest traffic changing locale with the seasons.

But when the month of May puts in its appearance, wheels of touring motorcars really begin to spin. Not in the numbers of June July and August do cars from faraway areas make their appearance, but the vanguard is a mighty one.

The tipoff that another great summer tourist season is at hand is news that limited accomodations have been opened in Yellowstone Park. When Yellowstone, where snow is deep in winter and which annually is visited by more than a million tourists, throws open its first gate, the big hegira is on.

Whether tourist meccas will set a new record in number of visitors this summer, as they have nearly every summer since the war, cannot be predicted with too great accuracy. But chances are they will do so.

sioner who is interested in this tax problem. I will try to answer your questions and attempt to advise you of the best action that you can take to solve your own problems," stated O'Neil.

Fox presented a historical background of the creation of the board. He stated that state school subsidies have jumped from $30 millions in 1921-1923 to $311 millions for 1951-1953. He added that this money comes from the people, either directly or indirectly. It is a matter of fair distribution, he said.

Fox continued: "The 1945 legislative body decided that the assessed valuation of taxable real property, as determined locally, would be the measure of distribution. However, there were three weaknesses in this plan. They were: The assessed valuation did not fairly reflect economic change; there was a lack of uniformity of assessed valuation (percentage of assessment to market value); and assessed valuation was subject to local manipulation. The 1947 general assembly created the Tax Equalization Board to determine a 100% market value of real property in every school district. This market value is the selling price between a willing buyer and a willing seller, without pressure."

Fox added: "The first step taken is an inventory of property for the entire district and then the processing of sales of recent years. The board has processed over 1,000,000 real estate sales already. Not every selling price can be accepted as the market value of the property, so that they have to be investigated."

Fox presented figures that showed that the present building costs are 254% of the 1933 level; that farm real estate values are 206% of 1933 and that the 1950 assessed valuation is 4% less than it was in 1933, despite the fact that 1950 was the next to most prosperous year in the country's history.

O'Neil stated that he would speak frankly and in the role of a citizen, rather than state official. He said: "Every four years assessors are elected. People re-elect assessors who have not been too tough on them. Assessors become autocrats, with each assessor having a different method. In fairness to them, however, I can't see why anyone would want to be an assessor at an hourly rate of 87½ cents, without training or backing. Under the new law, the assessor becomes more of an information gatherer, with the information evaluated by the county assessor's office. In the past, valuations have been suppressed and these values are still riding through today, in spite of changing values."

O'Neil stated that with 100% assessment a borough, township or a school board could receive more revenue from outside sources, receive the same amount from residents at a lower millage rate and would be in a position to borrow more money for school building programs or municipal projects.

In a lively question and answer period, Henry B. Thomas of Bristol Township, asked O'Neil if a farm owner, who does not intend to sell his property, would be assessed higher because a developer was offering high prices for his and his neighbors' farms? O'Neil answered neighbors' farms. O'Neil answered that the farmer's land was worth more and it should be assessed at what a sale would bring today, not five years ago or five years from now.

O'Neil answered a question concerning the advisability of employing professional appraisers to do the reassessing, by stating that in his opinion it would be foolish, as it can be done by local talent.

Burgess Hetherington added that the county commissioners had stated that they would not accept figures compiled by outside organizations.

Mrs. Edward VanSant, assessor of Hulmeville Borough, asked O'Neil if the figures of the 1952 market values were available to the local assessors. O'Neil stated that the figures vary for various districts but that the state average is an increase of 10% or less.

Lewis asked O'Neil what could be done to facilitate the program. O'Neil stated that in other communities members of the local government, school board members, prominent citizens, including bankers and real estate men, would work with the assessors to revalue every property. O'Neil cautioned that a plan like this needs the support of the people. They must be given an educational program, he added. If they do not have confidence in the persons who are conducting the program, it will fail.

Hetherington thanked the men for speaking to the group and added that "a taxpayers association could perform some of these duties. I hope something comes out of this meeting."

A bugle corps quartette of the Bracken Post, No. 382, of the American Legion, entertained those attending the meeting last evening. The quartette, consisting of Joseph Commare, 54 Manor Circle; Donald McGlynn, 931 Garden street; Joseph Capizzi, 117 Cherry street, and Thomas Antonelli, 923 Pear street, are entering state and national competition this week-end with a Saturday night competition at the Norristown City Hall at eight p. m.

Tariffs vs. Subsidies

be showing up in the stores—textiles, light bulbs, novelties and gifts, bicycles, canned fish.

What the American people realize only dimly is that a great deal of this ruinous competition has been built up deliberately since the war by the free-trade disciples, the "one-world" schemers, the "democracy is decadent" plotters for a planned economy, and of course those who benefit immediately from such policies—the international bankers, ship owners and operators, and the importers.

"Foreign aid" means many things to many people. To most Americans it means a good-hearted effort to put populations back on their feet who were demoralized and crushed in the progress of World War II.

But to our national administrators, "foreign aid" has been a means of accomplishing two objectives dear to their hearts: first, manipulating our home-front economy, so as to keep prices at a famine level even in the face of bumper crops. and second, to set up vast production lines around the world in direct competition with American industry and agriculture.

Within the past few years a revival of interest in the protective tariff—the late protective tariff one might say, since the Roosevelt and Truman regimes have broken down the wall in a thousand places—has been conspicuous throughout this country and especially on the Washington front.

Organized labor has finally begun to recognize the basic fact about the protective tariff, which is that the group most "protected" is the American worker and his standards of living.

A new generation of industrialists in the northern part of the country has had to learn the truth about tariffs the hard way, since it is now about thirty years since this country faced and solved a tariff crisis, and those who administered the remidies in the period shortly after World War I now have mostly passed out of public life.

Meanwhile, throughout the New South baby industries recently sprung up are finding out that their lives will be short indeed if they are left shelterless from the furious competition from abroad, armed with cheap, slave or subsidized labor.

And it is dawning on America's farmers that their chips are in the same game, that they as producers of foods and other essentials are to all intents and purposes "manufacturers", and are just as vulnerable to tariff mistakes, and just as urgently in need of protection, as the operators of mills and factories.

Many times in the past America has moved up to a crisis such as this, for the fact is that the fallacy of "free trade" is a worm that never dies; and times and again, application of the principles of the protective tariff in American economics has produced such a era of good times that those who benefitted most soon forgot what it was that produced their prosperity, and themselves were beguiled to help tear down the tariff aids that created their prosperity.

What sets this particular crisis apart from all others in American history is that spokesmen of the planned-economy concepts are urging the use, not of the principles of protective tariffs, but the wholly different program of subsidies.

When unrestrained competition from lower-paid pools of employment brings creeping unemployment and lessening wages to a country, there are in fact only two possible treatments.

One is to set up a system of duties on imports which will make up the different between the wages at home and the smaller pay abroad, so that the articles go on the American market at substantially the same prices and compete there on their merits. That is the protective tariff.

The other asserted cure is for the government to take enough money out of the general funds, or print enough new money, to pay working people in America the amount they are losing because their jobs are being, so to speak, exported to foreigners. No matter how the subsidies may be described, in the last analysis the subsidy is an attempt to compensate the American employee for the fact that his government has insisted on policies that threw him out of work or reduced his income.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1947, P. L. 1145, No. 481, its supplements and amendments, Notice is given of the intention of the School District of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, to enact a Resolution providing for the imposition of a monthly tax of Five Dollars ($5.00) per trailer upon the use of all house trailers which are situated or located within the said School District and are regularly occupied or used for dwelling or business purposes for a consecutive period of fifteen (15) days or more.
A copy of the proposed resolution is on file at the office of the Secretary of the said school district in the high school building of Cornwells Heights, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, where the same is available for public inspection.
The reason which, in the judgment of the officials of the School District of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, necessitates the imposition of the tax is the need for additional funds for general school purposes, due to the increased cost of the operation of the school district, and the belief that persons residing in trailers located within the school district or using trailers for business purposes should bear a share of the cost of operating the school district.
The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from the said tax is Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12000.00) per annum.
The aforesaid resolution will be presented to the Board of School Directors of the said school district, for final action thereon, at a meeting of said board to be held on Wednesday, May 14, 1952, at eight o'clock p. m. in the high school building of said district located on the Frankford-Bristol Turnpike, at Cornwells Heights, Bucks County, Pennsylvania. The resolution, if enacted, and the tax imposed thereby, shall become effective on July 7, 1952.
By Direction of the Board of School Directors of the School District of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pennsylvania.
WILLIAM F. ABEL, Secretary.

And when I sit and think of him,
My heart is filled with pain.

Do Your Legs Itch?

A Lack of Natural Skin Oils Often the Cause

Dry skin, a lack of natural skin oils, often causes maddening, persistent itching of legs and ankles. Relieve dry skin itch with Resinol, the medicated, oil-rich ointment that lubricates parched skin surface, acts in place of Nature's own missing oils. Resinol quiets agonizing itching almost immediately. Comfort lasts for hours as Resinol Ointment helps Nature heal irritated parts.

Urges Action to Avoid Hardening, Bucks Arteries

Howard M. Barnes, the vice-chairman, former County Commissioner, Simon K. Moyer, presided. Other Planning Commissioners present were Robert W. Robinson, John L. Stover, William S. Erwin, Charles M. Meredith, former County Treasurer Elwood Britton and Harold Crooker.

The following sub-divisions were given approval: Samuel E. Stoop, Solebury township; Becker Farms, Bensalem township; Pebble Hill Acres, Doylestown township; Willowpen, Valley View, Upper Southampton township.

The following sub-divisions were given approval subject to certain revisions or for additional information: Longview Acres, Northampton township; Buckland Valley Farms, Upper Makefield township; Mapleview Terrace, Lower Southampton township; Scattergood Tract, Lower Makefield township; Rockdale Inc., George H. Wetherill, Bristol township; Frank Moll, Chalfont Borough; Reeder Mill Terrace, Solebury township; Somerton Hills, Lower Southampton township.

A report was made by Carl Wild, planning consultant, who told of progress being made by the Planning staff on the collection of data for the Planning study and for public information.

Maps and data completed were shown, showing the established zoning existing in potential industrial areas, proposed housing, major highways, public transportation, water and sewer facilities and drainage areas in the county.

Mr. Wild summarized maps and data still in progress, among which are ones showing existing land used, school locations and school districts. Two base maps are being made and will be available to local officers and other agencies when completed.

A set of maps was shown showing existing conditions in Lower Bucks County and the development possibilities. These maps it is stated are to be reproduced in colored slides and to be used at public meetings to stimulate interest in the Planning program.

The commission approved Mr. Wild's request to employ Russell Black as an associate consultant.

At Mr. Wood's suggestion, it was decided that the commission will be divided into two sub-committees, which will meet prior to the full commission each month to discuss details of the sub-divisions. Commissioners from the areas where the sub-divisions are located, will be members of the sub-committees, that will be chosen by Mr. Wood or Howard Barnes, chairman of the Planning Commission.

As of May 1st, the Commission decided that all final plans for sub-divisions must be accompanied by payment specified in the regulations: $10 for each plan and $1 for each lot in the tract.

Mr. Wood had met with seven group meetings in various parts of the county, during the past month. The commission will meet with township supervisors in the near future, to explain the Planning program.

The 15th of July is St. Swithin's day.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, May 8. The United States Senate has a delightful opportunity to save us taxpayers a lot of grief between now and next March.

The House of Representatives has done so, in slicing more than six billion dollars from the President's requests for funds for operation of various government agencies during the 1953 fiscal year, which starts next July 1.

Unfortunately, however, the Senate usually reverses action taken by the House on spending bills and then, in conference, browbeats House members into accepting Senate wishes. There is one hope that 1952 may be different. Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, the Wyoming Democrat, who in the past seldom interfered with White House spending demands, recently jarred his colleagues by stating that he might look kindly on budget trimming this session. Of course, this could be no more than a soothing syrup for the consumption of voters and an effort to soften up House members who later will confer with the Senate on the spending bills.

Of unusual interest in Congres this year, also, is the action of the House in not only accepting House Appropriations Committee budget cuts, but in heaping further cuts on top of them. This is an exact reversal of normal procedure. Usually, Appropriations Committee members have done the trimming in a normal fashion and then had to endure a day or two of torture while White House members—some with particular local projects in mind and some simply blatant administration "yes-men"—ganged up to restore most of the cuts.

A compilation of House action this session reveals an historic precedent in this respect—historic at least, insofar as the past 20 years are concerned. For instance:

A total of $3,890,000 more was sliced off the Treasury-Post Office Appropriations Bill by the House, following a $72,690,000 cut by its Appropriations Committee below the budget requests.

Even more unusual, few House members argued with a $172,829,450 slash effected by the Committee in State, Commerce and Justice Department budgets, and, in fact added a $225,998,578 additional cut of their own once the bill reached the floor. This record 18.1 per cent reduction in this spending bill must have caused many an old-hand Fair Dealer a grimace of pain. It was rank heresy in days gone by, to even suggest a 1 per cent cut of anything involving appropriations, including funds for woodland dancers to keep defense workers happy.

Almost untouchable, in the past, have been Interior Department funds. This tight little island of political savvy usually gets what it wants because it has something for almost every Congressman by way of projects ranging in size from farm ponds to gigantic power and irrigation projects.

This year, the House Appropriations Committee knocked off $197,324,700, a cut of 21.3 per cent, from the Interior Department money request. The politically hep Secretary of Interior, Oscar Chapman, barely batted an eyelash. He had been through this before. The House as a whole would take care of this effort of insolence. But the impossible happened, with the House adding to Interior's pain by slicing another $6,186,510 from the spending bill. The final cut was 22.3 per cent.

Defense spending took the biggest cut in both the Appropriation Committee and the House as a whole. The cut was $4,417,945,216.

And, right or wrong, this is the saving that the Senate will probably leave alone. It probably will, if it follows a normal pattern, restore some or all of the economy cuts made by the House in non-military spending. But there is far less politics in military spending; far fewer votes to lose if a regiment of tanks or a squadron of airplanes is knocked out of the budget.

If the Senate really wants economy it will accept the House cuts in non-miltary agencies of the government. This is where the waste is gigantic, the boondoggling frightful and the politics free wheeling. Instead of shrinking since the war, most non-military agencies of the government have continued to grow under the Fair Deal. It's about time the Senate adopted some of the common sense displayed by the House of Representatives. It's a sure thing that the bureaucrats and their boss in the White House never will.

Mrs. Watts Presides At "Hills" Club Installation

FAIRLESS HILLS, May 8 — The officers elected last month for Fairless Hills Women's Club were installed Tuesday at the May meeting in the community center. Mrs. George Harding took the oath of office as new president, with Mrs. Fred Watts, Morrisville, R. D. club sponsor, in charge of the ceremony.

Mrs. John Dacey, first vice-president, presided last evening.

Chairmen of the new committees as announced by Mrs. Harding, are: Mrs. Arthur Brown, finance; Mrs. Louis Hackett, historian; Mrs. Howard Pietsch, membership; Mrs. Edward McDonald, program; Mrs. William Williams, publicity; Mrs. Merle Bishop and Mrs. J. R. Hadd, hotsesses; Mrs. J. Pugh, sunshine, and Mrs. Renwick Miller, parliamentarian.

A skit, "Mock Meeting," was presnted by the drama group. Participating were Mrs. S. R. Murphy, Mrs. Frank Ceraso, Mrs. Ronald Schillat, Mrs. John Kurtz., Miss Frances Eastburn, Mrs. John Dacey and Mrs. William Williams.

Mrs. Stephen Westby was announced as new chairman of the garden department. This department will visit a pansy farm near Bristol on May 14th; and will conduct its next meeting, with box luncheon, at the home of Mrs. L. R. Baker, Langhorne, May 28th.

The legislation and international relations department, of which Mrs. Michael Joyce is chairman, announced that members will accompany Trenton (N. J.) Y. W. C. A. on trips to the United Nations meetings, May 15th and 26th.

Mrs. Harding informed members of the program which took place at the spring meeting of Bucks Co. Federation of Women's Clubs in Doylestown. At that time, Mrs. C. Wilmer Fisher, Morrisville, federation president, presented Mrs. Harding with a gavel, also with a certificate of federation for the local club.

Refreshments concluded the meeting.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Let Him Do His Stuff

WASHINGTON, May 8.

—In the split and confused state in which the Democratic party now finds itself, the chances that Senator Estes Kefauver may merge from its convention as the presidential nominee appear to increase. It is interesting, too, that the closer General Eisenhower approaches the Republican nomination (and his striking victory in Massachusetts brings him very close, indeed) the larger the coonskin-capped Tennessean looms as the Democratic choice.

—o—

Strangely enough, this not due to any particular public appeal developed by Mr. Kefauver; nor to anything he has said, done or stands for. Rather, it is because of the situation that three leading Democrats—Mr. Truman, Chief Justice Vinson and Governor Stevenson—have created by refusing a nomination which they could have had. That, in itself, is unprecedented in party history. When the three best known and outstanding availables withdrew it left a field in which, on the basis of television conduct of his Crime Committee, Mr. Kefauver was almost the only active aspirant. Under these conditions he has been winning primaries and picking up votes because he was largely unopposed.

—o—

Yet there is no real desire among party leaders to nominate Mr. Kefauver. On the contrary, there is a strong distaste for him among many, from the President down, despite his primary vote. Nor is there any discernible demand for him among the people. Though Mr. Truman personally dislikes him, there is slight difference between them on policies. Senator Kefauver is strongly against sin but he has the same servile leanings toward the CIO, no convincing convictions about curtailing governmental waste or changing the drift toward socialism, which has marked our course for sixteen years. He is unbeloved in the South and not outstandingly poular anywhere, though there is some voting allure in his Salvation Army campaign methods.

—o—

Considering these things in connection with the concededly poor prospects of party success, it is not surprising there should be talk among Administration politicians (naturally anxious to avert a change) of "drafting" either Mr. Truman or Governor Stevenson notwithstanding their firm declarations that they are out. Certainly there is slight prospect that this "drafting" could be done. To make it possible both the President and the Governor would not only have to eat their words but also connive in the "draft." In addition, if the "draft" were achieved the chances of victory at the polls concededly would not be good—and both know it.

—o—

Nevertheless, the White House politicians insist that enough "pressure" can be applied, if not to force the President to change his mind at least to make Mr. Stevenson change his. Should the Republicans (who meet first) nominate Senator Taft it is conceded the chances of "drafting" one or the other would be greatly enhanced. On the other hand, should General Eisenhower become the Republican standard bearer it would become impossible "to draft" either. The reason is clear. If Mr. Taft is nominated, after overwhelming evidence of the popular desire for "Ike," the Democrats might be justified in believing he could be beaten. But with Eisenhower nominated, the Democratic candidate's hope of election would be so remote that the nomination would seem undesirable save to one who would rather belicked than not run at all. Under these circumstances, Kefauver would seem the logical man.

—o—

Neither the aged Vice President, Mr. Alben Barkley, nor the amiable Mr. Averell Harriman, nor the oil millionaire, Senator Robert Kerr, offer any better choice—if as good. As for Senator Richard Russell, of Georgia, who in ability and character is perhaps the outstanding man of them all, he can't be nominated—so it is said—because the party would lose every Negro vote in the pivatol states of the North and the labor-union support as well. In brief, the Democratic party has become so dependent on these organized minorities that no candidate is available who can't be "cleared" with them. On the Democratic side, all of them except Mr. Russell could be so "cleared"—and "Ike" easily would beat any of them.

—o—

Of course, the thing for which the Democrats pray is for the Republicans to turn down Eisenhower and nominate Taft. That is what they would love, but after Massachusetts few believe it is possible to be that stupid. Failure to get that "break" seems to leave them nowhere to go except to Kefauver. A few days ago one of his senatorial colleagues said: "He is just about the best we can do under the circumstances. Give him his old coonskin cap and let him do his stuff. If Eisenhower is the candidate he will take an awful shellacking, but 'the experience won't do him no harm' and there isn't anybody in sight who can do any better." This is a rather tough presentation but, while things change very quicky in politics, it is realistic as of today.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Bristol Township Elementary School

Maple Shade

On a recent Saturday the classes of Mr. Wielgolasky's fourth and fifth grade, Mr. Beck's fifth grade and Mrs. Friel's and Mrs. Lewis' sixth grades spent the day in Philadelphia.

Traveling by school bus their first stop was Independence Hall where the guide gave the pupils an excellent background of Early American History. He showed them the different buildings in this group, which are all of great historical importance. He allowed them to see and touch the Liberty Bell and also showed them the "Chair of the Rising Sun" where George Washington sat while signing the Declaration of Independance. He took the group into Congress Hall where the first Congress met to carry on business of the colonies.

The next place visited was Franklin Institute where reservations had been made at the Planetarium to see the show "Creation of the Universe."

Following lunch the children spent their remaining time in different parts of the Institute, climbed on the large locomotive, sat in the cockpit of the trainer plane in the Aviation Room, saw paper-making processes, inspected many old cars, bicycles, and fire engines, took pictures and last of all bought souvenirs to take home.

Edgely Primary

The first grades at Edgely Primary School visited Walnut Grove Farm recently. The children were escorted around the farm by Mrs. Loller, and Justine Loller. They saw many farm animals, including sheep and cows. They brought raw wool, corn, barley, potatoes and wheat grains back to school. This trip culminated a farm unit. The children now have had many real farm experiences which will help them better understand the stories which they will read.

Edgely Intermediate

To close their study of Holland, the children of the fourth grades in Edgely School constructed a typical Dutch village, complete with canals, dikes, windmills, and dairy farms.

Booklets were made as a memento of this unit.

The pupils also gave a program which included several Dutch songs and dances, a Dutch play, illustrated stories of the life in Holland taken from their study, plus an original poem entitled "The Land of the Dutch" written by one member of the class.

General News

Mrs. Joseph Beck and Mrs. Theodore Wallin of Edgely Elementary School and Mr. John Beck of Maple Shade attended the Geography Institute held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College recently.

A meeting of the eight head teachers of the Bristol Township Elementary Schools with Mrs. Dorothy McCollom, elementary Supervisor as chairman, was held recently at Maple Shade School. Plans were discussed for the end of this year and for the next term.

Pennsbury District

L. MAKEFIELD TWP., May 8—A breakfast is being planned by 17 junior girls and Thomas Daugherty, head of the school cafeteria at Pennsbury high, for May 23, at five o'clock, for the seniors of the high school who will leave for Washington, D. C.

Those girls are: Ruth Schaffer, chairman; "Connie" Wilson, Jo Hopkins, Iva Eckelmen, Patricia Dilliplane, B. Durante, Pauline Byers, Wilma Hume, Lois Cobb, Dee Meszaros, Carol Curtin, Alice DeCou, Veronika Krueger, Margo Dougherty, Marie Kellett, Eleanore Seaman, Dorothy Kellett.

Pennsbury high building, containing 24 classrooms, library, shop, gymnasium, art room, music room, auditorium, and offices can be vacated in two minutes and 13 seconds. Seven hundred students, 42 faculty members, eight administrative officers and seven others, move in orderly columns to places of safety outside the building.

"The last two drills were very fine. Student conduct and attention to details were quite satisfactory," quoted Joseph Rhorbaugh, vice-principal of the school.

The building is periodically inspected by the janitor and Mr. Rhorbaugh in accordance with a check list supplied by insurance companies.

Pennsbury assistant librarians have just issued a novel newspaper, P. A. L. News. The paper contains interviews, book reviews, and new book lists.

The main goal of the paper is to stimulate new reading interests.

The staff includes Ellen Beckwith, editor; John Samuels, art editor; "Betty" Birdsall, interviews; and Cade Brockelbank, reporter. All are assistant librarians.

Pennsbury high is forming plans for a book drive which will get underway this week. A program to obtain the co-operation of everyone has been planned. The goal is "more fiction books for the library." Alexander R. Griffin, the well-known author of "A Ship to Remember," will address the school assemblies on the importance of the book drive and launch the program.

A committee, "Chris" Griffin, chairman; Carliss McQuillen, and Harry Burwell, has made possible this assembly program. They have also planned many other activities which will be held to promote the drive.

The 10th grade biology and the advance biology classes of Pennsbury will take a trip to Barnegat, N. J., on May 26.

Students will leave the high school at 8.30 a. m., and return in the early evening. This trip is to collect and identify specimens of plant and animal life in that region.

The first annual choral concert of Pennsbury high was held May 2nd.

The program included: "Salutation" (Gaines), "I Heard a Forest Praying" (DeRose), "The Omnipotence" (Schubert), music by Barton Klemn, "Lost in the Night" (Christiansen), "All in the April Evening" (Robertson), "Nation's Prayer" (Franck), "O Lovely Heart" (Robertson), "If I But Knew" (Clokey), "Bless the Lord" (Ippolitoff-Ivanoff), "Water Ripple and Flow" (Czeck Folk Song), "Sing and Rejoice" (James), "One World" (Bratton - O'Hara - Wilson), "Stodola Pumpa" (Strickling), "Come Dance and Sing," "Ride the Chariot" (Negro spiritual), "When Day is Done" (Katcher), "Benediction" (Lutkin).

Also included were the girls' trio: "Tribute to Romberg," "I Talked to God," "Luxembourg Garden."

Doylestown High School

One hundred and eighty students from Doylestown High School, Doylestown, saw the American competitive enterprise system at work Wednesday during a tour of the Standard Pressed Steel plant, Jenkintown.

The tour is one of a continuing series arranged for high school seniors by Americans for the Competitive Enterprise System, Inc.

ELKS SOUTHEASTERN DISTRICT BOWLING LEAGUE

Sunday afternoon the Elks Southeastern District Bowling League came to a close with Bristol downing Reading Elks 7 out of 8 points in a double match game. There is now a tie between Bristol Elks and Pottstown Elks for first place and championship of the League which will be rolled off on neutral alleys next week.

It was one of the most exciting matches in the League. At the start, Bristol needed 8 points to beat Pottstown out of first place and 7 points to tie. Bristol came through the first game, then Reading took the second. From then on it was Bristol all the way with Reading breathing down their necks frame after frame until the last ball was thrown.

In the final game Bristol was down 6 marks in the 8th frame and came oatting through with strike after strike until the final frame ran an even game. The boys really put the pressure on Bob Wardrop, bowling anchor for Bristol. 3 strikes were needed in the final frame and Bob came through with a turkey to defeat Reading by one pin with a score of 893 to 892, and placed Bristol in playoff position with Pottstown. Andy Moore was high for Bristol with 611 while Polzmacher for Reading had 588.

URGES ACTION TO AVOID HARDENING OF BUCKS ARTERIES

Wild Foresees "Choking" In Lower Bucks Unless Planning is Done

O. K. SUB-DIVISIONS

Among Them is The Becker Farms, Located in Bensalem Township

DOYLESTOWN, May 8—Predicting a case of "hardening of the arteries" for the main highways of lower Bucks county, with resultant "choking" of such travel arteries unless steps to forestall such are taken at once, Carl Wild suggested to Bucks County Planning Commission that some definite planning be done. Mr. Wild, consultant, spoke at the meeting of the commission held here Tuesday.

Mr. Wild added: "Provisions must be made to require a greater setback of commercial places along the important routes of traffic." He emphasized the fact that there is a higher rate of accidents where dairy and other eating places, and theatres are not set back sufficient distance from highways.

Mr. Wild urged that local officials encourage zoning and demand that business places not be allowed to build right up to the edge of the road.

Pointing out there is no zoning in Falls, Bensalem, Upper Southampton, Wrightstown and that Bristol township is in the process of adopting a zoning code, Mr. Wild said: "Falls township has much of its land accounted for already. Bensalem township needs it most and much of Falls has also been taken by industry or housing.

"Along Routes 1 and 13, which will take care of population the size of a city like Harrisburg, about 100,000, care must be exercised in the placing of new business places and commercial sites.

"State police and other law enforcement officials agree that there are more accidents near the drive-in theatres and big dairy places where motorists are constantly backing in and out than where the places are not located too close to the highways," Consultant Wild urged.

The new link of the Pennsylvania Turnpike across lower Bucks county was termed a barrier particularly so far as the schools are concerned. Dr. Charles H. Boehm, county superintendent, and his staff are already consulting about new bus and school routes because the turnpike with its few openings will make revision of the school bus routes necessary.

"The turnpike with its two interchanges in Bucks county upsets the cluster for school districts," said Wild.

Russell V. Black, New Hope,RD, widely-known planning expert in this section of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, will be employed as an associate consultant at a salary of $2500 subject to the approval of the Pennsylvania State Planning Commission.

Mr. Wild also urged the possibility of getting financial aid for work to be done by the U. S. Geological Survey.

Franklin C. Wood, executive director of the county planning commission, announced that meetings are being held with township zoning officers and township supervisors in order to coordinate all activities.

In the absence of the chairman,

Only 34 of Bucks County Military Ballots "Count"

DOYLESTOWN, May 8—Only 43 of the requested 56 military ballots for Bucks County servicemen were returned in the last primary election, it has been revealed. Seven of these were too late to count, and two could not be properly identified as to districts.

Thus, only 34 of the voters involved had ballots that really "counted" in the primary.

So far, 56 applications have been received by Clerk Harold Hellyer, of the county elections committee, for ballots to vote at the general election.

Of the 43 returned military ballots at the primary election, Eisenhower received 23; Stassen, 5; Taft, 1; Warren, 1.

All told, there were 1,600 military ballots printed for the primary election in Bucks county.

SURGEON EXAMINES MAN DURING TRIAL

Jury Excused in Order That Physician Might Check Frederick Harms

6 YEARS' TREATMENT

DOYLESTOWN May 8—An Abington Hospital surgeon, Dr. Fletcher Sain, examined the leg of a plaintiff, Frederick Harms, West Bristol, on Monday during a civil court trial, here.

Because Harms, the plaintiff, is suing his brother-in-law, Joseph Nagle, Bristol twp., in connection with injuries received in an automobile accident, and had not seen the Abington Hospital bone surgeon for some time the examination and prognosis was allowed by Judge Edward G. Biester.

The plaintiff, Harms, removed his brace on his left leg and Judge Biester excused the jury while Dr. Sain made the examination. Dr. Sain, on the witness stand, following the examination, testified that bone grafting is recommended and that the plaintiff, a tall, husky man, will not be able to walk without assistance because his leg will bend in the middle, toward the outside."

The plaintiff was under the care of doctors and hospital surgeons for more than six years. His surgeon's bill was $725. "Dozens of doctors and surgeons worked on Harms," testified Dr. Sain.

Harms, a former pipe fitter, was injured Dec. 21, 1946, near Pipersville on the Gardenville-Pipersville road. He had gone with his brother-in-law, Nagle, for a ride near

TARIFFS VS. SUBSIDIES

(In Two Parts: Part I)

This country's foreign trade is getting deeper and deeper into trouble.

Exports are falling off, imports are rising, and both factors are hitting American labor where it hurts, which is their pocketbooks—that is to say, their living standards.

Prosperity in manufacturing is a matter of markets. That is true of other lines which we sometimes don't think of as being manufacturing, but which really are; farming, for example, which from the point of view of economics means "manufacturing" foodstuffs and other essentials out of raw materials.

No greater fallacy ever existed that the pre-Civil war concept, upon which was founded the still-active theories of free-trade, that there is a fundamental distinction between industry and agriculture. Basicly they are both production activities, manufacturing businesses. They flourish under the same kind of treatment, thrive under similar atmospheres of government, and wither under the same poisons of false economics.

Among the products where exports are declining, and hence reducing the markets and future incomes of American working people, are some which are agricultural and some which are industrial. The list includes: tobacco, agricultural implements, feed and fertilizer, oil and oil products, coal, cotton, textiles, wheat, other grains.

Item by item is being added to the already long list where imports have carved into American production, shortening down American payrolls, reducing American workers' incomes.

Most publicized American industry being crucified to benefit a foreign country is the watch industry, which has been driven to the wall by uncontrolled one-sided competition from Switzerland. Why can the Swiss under-sell Americans in the watch business? Two reasons: first, Swiss government subsidies of the industry; second, cheaper labor. The Swiss employe has next to none of the expensive social securities American labor enjoys, and his living standards are infinitely lower, so that his wages are only a fraction of the American levels.

Glassware and china and pottery are in the same catergory. Competition with American concerns, paying higher wages, is wholly one-sided. So with many other lines—cameras, fishing tackle, wool, various other textiles, a host of farm products ranging from eggs to grain.

A new wave of competition is headed this way—big-scale production from Japan. More and more Japanese articles will

"CROSSING" TO BE THE SCENE OF A CAMPOREE

Changed from Ockanickon, Due to Growth of Lower Part of County

DATES: JUNE 7TH, 8TH

The camping and activities committee of Bucks Co. Council, Boy Scouts of America, of which Dr. A. J. Strathie, Newtown, is chairman, has announced that the council camporee will be held at Washington Crossing Park on June 7th and 8th.

Formerly, the council camporees have been held at Camp Ockanickon, but because of the growth of this area the committee sought the aid of the Washington Crossing Park Commission and found the commission most cooperative in helping to meet the problem.

The camporee will be held on a site near the main Flag Pole and the Scouts and Explorers will all have an opportunity to view the original painting of Washington crossing the Delaware, on display in Washington Crossing Methodist Church; the embarkation point, memorial cedars and other points of interest.

Religious services will be provided on Sunday morning for boys of all faiths.

On Saturday evening a campfire will be held at which the entire group will be gathered together. Stories, songs, stunts and history of the Park, along with ceremonies and other features will be part of the program. At the camporee the camp will be set up on a district basis with the seven districts of

The Allied package proposal for a Korean truce was fully supported by this country, President Truman said in amplifying statements by Secretary Acheson and Deputy Defense Secretary Foster that the "all or nothing" plan was also endorsed by other members of the United Nations. "We will not buy an Armistice by turning over human beings for slaughter or slavery," the President said in explaining why forced repatriation of prisoners "would be unthinkable." There was no change in the deadlock in talks at Panmunjom.

Soviet Russia was charged by Secretary Acheson with perpetrating an "international crime" in talking peace but supplementing a "hate America" propaganda campaign with a "hate Americans" line.

East Germany's Communist leaders announced they were forming an army to resist "aggression."

Foreign Secretary Eden rejected a Labor demand that West German rearming be deferred until after four-power talks with the Soviet Union.

Prime Minister Churchill changed the composition of his British Cabinet.

A $6,901,100,000 mutual security fund bill was reported by a House committee with provisions to shift $1,000,000,000 in materiel to foreign countries and to earmark a similar sum for "off-shore" procurement.

Controls on installment credit buying were suspended by the Federal Reserve Board, which asked Congress to continue authority to reimpose curbs if necessary. Manly Fleischmann resigned as Defense Production Administrator, effective at the end of May.

A Senate inquiry ordered public hearings to start Monday on Senator Benton's charges against Senator McCarthy.

Senator Kefauver emerged as the hero of Tuesday's primary elections. He upset the Ohio Democratic organization by winning half of the state's convention delegates while Senator Taft captured all Republican delegates. In Florida the Kefauver vote was regarded as impressive although victory went to Senator Russell, States' Rights' advocate, who had been been backed by the political machine.

53 Men Attending Fire School at Fairless Hills

FAIRLESS HILLS, May 8—The weekly sessions of the state-sponsored fire school, being held in the Fairless Hills Fire Co. station, are attracting 53 local firemen.

The 18 weeks course is proving most popular, according to John H. O'Hear, president of the group.

The firemen are being trained in use of various type fire extinguishers, in knot tying as applied to hoisting fire equipment, drills on loading and unloading hose from trucks, handling ladders, removing people from buildings by ladders and other means, etc.

Three of the fire hydrants in the "Hills" are to be re-placed, due to the fact the fittings were the wrong size. These had been installed before the fire engine was purchased.

LEVITTOWN STREET NAMES ATTRACTIVE

LIST ALPHABETICALLY

LEVITTOWN, May 8 — Such "cool-sounding" names as Stream, and Silver-Birch Lanes, are to be found in this — Bucks County's newest town-in-the-making.

A perusal of the Levittown map reveals that names of "lanes" in one section all start with the letters "S", in another with "L", in a third with "P", and so on.

Some are "dainty" names such as Primrose lane and Lilac lane; others bring to mind scented woodlands, such as "Pinewood drive"; while others conjure up thoughts of beauty, with Sunset and Starlight lanes.

In the "S" category there are also: Sweetbrier, Strawberry, Swan, Spiral, Shepherd, Shelter, Sugarmapie, Spring, Schoolhouse, Shadow, Shadetree, Summer, South, Stonybrook, Serpentine lanes or drives.

Those in the "G's" include: Glenwood, Garden, and Graceful.

Pinewood, Pensave, Peartree, Poplar, Peachtree, Park, Pebble, Pleasant, Pond, Penn and Pine are among the "P's".

The "L's" have it with Lakeside, Locust, Lavendar, Low, Lilac, Laurel, and Leasure.

A number of other streets are laid out on the map, but as yet names have not been assigned.

STAGGERING OF HOURS WILL BE TRAFFIC AID

Only 1/3 of Regular Workers To Leave The Fairless Plant at One Time

BERDIS IS SPEAKER

FALLSINGTON, May 8—The talk made by Albert J. Berdis, general superintendent of Fairless Works, U. S. Steel Co., before Falls Twp. Civic Association, last evening, was of an informal nature. Mr. Berdis, in addition to discussing the planned staggering of hours for employees to alleviate, as much as possible, the "choking" of lower Bucks county highways at certain periods, told of the types of workers being added.

Once the construction work is completed the traffic problem will be alleviated, Mr. Berdis informed.

The majority of the construction workers start their tasks at 8.20, and "sign off" at 4.20. "But when this job is completed not more than one-third of the 6,000 regular workers will leave or report at the same time," he advised.

The 500 men who have been brought to the Fairless Works by the firm are "management-key men, hand-picked," he advised. Later there will be about 500 "key workers," this group including foremen and specialists, already starting to move in. The remainder will be hired from this general area, he stated.

"The company feels very deeply its responsibility of being a good citizen," he said. "We've gone to extremes in an effort to be a good neighbor."

"Looking forward to the future when this project is completed, all of us, individuals as well as groups, will find that we have all benefited from this vast development here," he said.

Over 100 attended the meeting, and the group also enjoyed selections by the "Hungry Four," a Newtown quartet.

Later the executive committee and guests were entertained at the home of Karl Ottolini, Tyburn road, president of the association.

ONLY HANDFUL ATTEND MEETING TO DISCUSS TAXES

Two Speakers Say Education is Very Important on Equalization

REVALUATION NEEDED

Value To Be Price Willing Buyer Will Pay Willing Seller

"Education of the resident taxpayers about the meaning and benefits of a tax equalization program is one of the first steps that must be taken before a program led by a citizens committee, in conjunction with the assessors, can be successfully undertaken," stated John N. O'Neil, chairman of the State Tax Equalization Board, last evening.

An overwhelming majority of area residents remained uneducated as O'Neil spoke to a meager group of community leaders at the Bracken Post Hall of the American Legion, on Radcliffe street, last evening. There were less than 50 people in attendance, including at least five Bristol Borough councilmen, school board members, area assessors, tax collectors and businessmen, while the general public remained at home. "The meeting was planned by a committee representing the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, the Mill Street Business Men's Association and the Lower Bucks County CIO organization, for the purpose of enlightening the public with the facts concerning tax equalization," said Burgess Hetherington.

O'Neil and George E. Fox, Director of Research of the State Tax Equalization Board, had journeyed from Harrisburg to address the group. In summary, what they said concerning tax equalization was that all property would be revalued at what a willing buyer would pay a willing seller. This figure is the real market value of the property and will change through time and influences. With assessments higher there will be a broader tax base and it will be possible to lower the millage rate, while still getting more taxing power over outside sources and permitting municipal governments and school boards to borrow more.

Burgess I. Johnston Hetherington acted as host with Alfred E. Lewis, president of the Bristol Borough School Board. Burgess Hetherington stated in his opening remarks that "the equalization of taxes is a paramount issue in the state. Our local area is no exception. The future of this area depends entirely on the equalization of taxes."

Hetherington continued: "I believe it will be impossible for the assesors, no matter how willing and capable, to accomplish this job in a short space of time. I sympathize with Elwood Britton in his position as first chief assessor of Bucks County. I hope that the results of this meeting will be the formation of a taxpayers association, which will work in conjunction with the local assessors.

Hetherington introduced Paul Tomlinson, a representative of the Lower Bucks County CIO, who stated: "We are wholeheartedly behind this movement and any other movement for the benefit of the community."

Mr. Lewis was introduced and he stated: "A very small minority of the people in Bristol know what is going on." Lewis offered the example of the school board budget, which not one citizen came to inspect while it was on display, as proof of his statement.

O'Neil and Fox were introduced by Lewis. Hetherington had referred to them earlier as "the two top men in their branch of state government, who very few communities, large or small, in the entire state have had the privilege of having them both on the same stage at the same time."

"Mr. Fox will speak to you concerning the technical side of the tax equalization and then I will speak to you, not as a state official, but rather as an ex-county commis-

WHEN BOOKS ARE "HOT"

Making books that pay off at pari-mutuel prices is, from a legal rather than a profit standpoint, an increasingly risky business. So can be the mere holding of stainless books, if they happen to be old and rare enough, as the Pequot Library Association in the little village of Southport, Conn., concluded.

It had, standing for the most part on open shelves, a collection of 3,000 old volumes and manuscripts given to it by the Rev. William Holman, who was 43 years collecting them and spent but $15,229, though it was said that many years ago an offer of $500,000 was made for the collection. But the risk of loss and theft was felt to be so great that the Holman gift has been lent in its entirety to Yale University library.

An authentic letter by Christopher Columbus in 1493 upon his return from the New World is one of the treasures. So is an undated letter by Henry VII of England. Inevitably in such a collection as this there is some dross among the gold, and doubtless many books are duplicates of those on the Yale library's own shelves. The danger at Southport was more from loss than from theft. An individual might steal a book for his own library, but the most valuable books and manuscripts are collectors' items known to dealers everywhere.

A sneak thief trying to dispose of one through regular channels might find a detective standing at his back before he was through haggling with the dealer over the price.

THE GREAT HEGIRA

The season of the annual hegira, when it seems everyone gets in an automobile and heads for strange roads, is here, its arrival unheralded and unsung as usual. Each year, come May, the number of automobiles on the highways decorated with tags from other states takes a spurt. The tourist season, as such, is no longer what it formerly was. Tourists take to the wide open spaces every month of the year, with heaviest traffic changing locale with the seasons.

But when the month of May puts in its appearance, wheels of touring motorcars really begin to spin. Not in the numbers of June July and August do cars from far-away areas make their appearance, but the vanguard is a mighty one.

The tipoff that another great summer tourist season is at hand is news that limited accomodations have been opened in Yellowstone Park. When Yellowstone, where snow is deep in winter and which annually is visited by more than a million tourists, throws open its first gate, the big hegira is on.

Whether tourist meccas will set a new record in number of visitors this summer, as they have nearly every summer since the war, cannot be predicted with too great accuracy. But chances are they will do so.

sioner who is interested in this tax problem. I will try to answer your questions and attempt to advise you of the best action that you can take to solve your own problems," stated O'Neil.

Fox presented a historical background of the creation of the board. He stated that state school subsidies have jumped from $30 millions in 1921-1923 to $311 millions for 1951-1953. He added that this money comes from the people, either directly or indirectly. It is a matter of fair distribution, he said.

Fox continued: "The 1945 legislative body decided that the assessed valuation of taxable real property, as determined locally, would be the measure of distribution. However, there were three weaknesses in this plan. They were: The assessed valuation did not fairly reflect economic change; there was a lack of uniformity of assessed valuation (percentage of assessment to market value); and assessed valuation was subject to local manipulation. The 1947 general assembly created the Tax Equalization Board to determine a 100% market value of real property in every school district. This market value is the selling price between a willing buyer and a willing seller, without pressure."

Fox added: "The first step taken is an inventory of property for the entire district and then the processing of sales of recent years. The board has processed over 1,000,000 real estate sales already. Not every selling price can be accepted as the market value of the property, so that they have to be investigated."

Fox presented figures that showed that the present building costs are 254% of the 1933 level; that farm real estate values are 206% of 1933 and that the 1950 assessed valuation is 4% less than it was in 1933, despite the fact that 1950 was the next to most prosperous year in the country's history.

O'Neil stated that he would speak frankly and in the role of a citizen, rather than state official. He said: "Every four years assessors are elected. People re-elect assessors who have not been too tough on them. Assessors become autocrats, with each assessor having a different method. In fairness to them, however, I can't see why anyone would want to be an assessor at an hourly rate of 87½ cents, without training or backing. Under the new law, the assessor becomes more of an information gatherer, with the information evaluated by the county assessor's office. In the past, valuations have been suppressed and these values are still riding through today, in spite of changing values."

O'Neil stated that with 100% assessment a borough, township or a school board could receive more revenue from outside sources, receive the same amount from residents at a lower millage rate and would be in a position to borrow more money for school building programs or municipal projects.

In a lively question and answer period, Henry B. Thomas of Bristol Township, asked O'Neil if a farm owner, who does not intend to sell his property, would be assessed higher because a developer was offering high prices for his and his neighbors' farms? O'Neil answered neighbors' farms. O'Neil answered that the farmer's land was worth more and it should be assessed at what a sale would bring today, not five years ago or five years from now.

O'Neil answered a question concerning the advisability of employing professional appraisers to do the reassessing, by stating that in his opinion it would be foolish, as it can be done by local talent.

Burgess Hetherington added that the county commissioners had stated that they would not accept figures compiled by outside organizations.

Mrs. Edward VanSant, assessor of Hulmeville Borough, asked O'Neil if the figures of the 1952 market values were available to the local assessors. O'Neil stated that the figures vary for various districts but that the state average is an increase of 10% or less.

Lewis asked O'Neil what could be done to facilitate the program. O'Neil stated that in other communities members of the local government, school board members, prominent citizens, including bankers and real estate men, would work with the assessors to revalue every property. O'Neil cautioned that a plan like this needs the support of the people. They must be given an educational program, he added. If they do not have confidence in the persons who are conducting the program, it will fail.

Hetherington thanked the men for speaking to the group and added that "a taxpayers association could perform some of these duties. I hope something comes out of this meeting."

A bugle corps quartette of the Bracken Post, No. 382, of the American Legion, entertained those attending the meeting last evening. The quartette, consisting of Joseph Commare, 54 Manor Circle; Donald McGlynn, 931 Garden street; Joseph Capizzi, 117 Cherry street, and Thomas Antonelli, 923 Pear street, are entering state and national competition this week-end with a Saturday night competition at the Norristown City Hall at eight p. m.

Tariffs vs. Subsidies

be showing up in the stores—textiles, light bulbs, novelties and gifts, bicycles, canned fish.

What the American people realize only dimly is that a great deal of this ruinous competition has been built up deliberately since the war by the free-trade disciples, the "one-world" schemers, the "democracy is decadent" plotters for a planned economy, and of course those who benefit immediately from such policies—the international bankers, ship owners and operators, and the importers.

"Foreign aid" means many things to many people. To most Americans it means a good-hearted effort to put populations back on their feet who were demoralized and crushed in the progress of World War II.

But to our national administrators, "foreign aid" has been a means of accomplishing two objectives dear to their hearts: first, manipulating our home-front economy, so as to keep prices at a famine level even in the face of bumper crops, and second, to set up vast production lines around the world in direct competition with American industry and agriculture.

Within the past few years a revival of interest in the protective tariff—the late protective tariff one might say, since the Roosevelt and Truman regimes have broken down the wall in a thousand places—has been conspicuous throughout this country and especially on the Washington front.

Organized labor has finally begun to recognize the basic fact about the protective tariff, which is that the group most "protected" is the American worker and his standards of living.

A new generation of industrialists in the northern part of the country has had to learn the truth about tariffs the hard way, since it is now about thirty years since this country faced and solved a tariff crisis, and those who administered the remidies in the period shortly after World War I now have mostly passed out of public life.

Meanwhile, throughout the New South baby industries recently sprung up are finding out that their lives will be short indeed if they are left shelterless from the furious competition from abroad, armed with cheap, slave or subsidized labor.

And it is dawning on America's farmers that their chips are in the same game, that they as producers of foods and other essentials are to all intents and purposes "manufacturers", and are just as vulnerable to tariff mistakes, and just as urgently in need of protection, as the operators of mills and factories.

Many times in the past America has moved up to a crisis such as this, for the fact is that the fallacy of "free trade" is a worm that never dies; and times and again, application of the principles of the protective tariff in American economics has produced such a era of good times that those who benefitted most soon forgot what it was that produced their prosperity, and themselves were beguiled to help tear down the tariff aids that created their prosperity.

What sets this particular crisis apart from all others in American history is that spokesmen of the planned-economy concepts are urging the use, not of the principles of protective tariffs, but the wholly different program of subsidies.

When unrestrained competition from lower-paid pools of employment brings creeping unemployment and lessening wages to a country, there are in fact only two possible treatments.

One is to set up a system of duties on imports which will make up the different between the wages at home and the smaller pay abroad, so that the articles go on the American market at substantially the same prices and compete there on their merits. That is the protective tariff.

The other asserted cure is for the government to take enough money out of the general funds, or print enough new money, to pay working people in America the amount they are losing because their jobs are being, so to speak, exported to foreigners. No matter how the subsidies may be described, in the last analysis the subsidy is an attempt to compensate the American employee for the fact that his government has insisted on policies that threw him out of work or reduced his income.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of the Act of June 25, 1947, P. L. 1145, No. 481, its supplements and amendments, Notice is given of the intention of the School District of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, to enact a Resolution providing for the imposition of a monthly tax of Five Dollars ($5.00) per trailer upon the use of all house trailers which are situated or located within the said School District and are regularly occupied or used for dwelling or business purposes for a consecutive period of fifteen (15) days or more.
A copy of the proposed resolution is on file at the office of the Secretary of the said school district in the high school building at Cornwells Heights, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, where the same is available for public inspection.
The reason which, in the judgment of the officials of the School District of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, necessitates the imposition of the tax is the need for additional funds for general school purposes, due to the increased cost of the operation of the school district, and the belief that persons residing in trailers located within the school district or using trailers for business purposes should bear a share of the cost of operating the school district.
The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from the said tax is Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12000.00) per annum.
The aforesaid resolution will be presented to the Board of School Directors of the said school district, for final action thereon, at a meeting of said board to be held on Wednesday, May 14, 1952, at eight o'clock p. m. in the high school building of said district located on the Frankford-Bristol Turnpike, at Cornwells Heights, Bucks County, Pennsylvania. The resolution, if enacted, and the tax imposed thereby, shall become effective on July 7, 1952.
By Direction of the Board of School Directors of the School District of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

And when I sit and think of him,
My heart is filled with pain.

the interim between meetings of the board of directors, provided, however, that any action which the executive committee may take shall not conflict with the policies and expressed wishes of the board of directors and provided further, that it shall refer all matters which concern the total corporate structure and other matters of major importance to the Board of Directors. Six members of this Committee must attend to constitute a quorum. No non-member of the board of directors shall be permitted to sit in session with the executive committee at any of its meetings except where specifically authorized to do so by these By-Laws or the by-laws of the organization, or by reason of professional ethics, or upon invitation.

In commenting upon the membership election, hospital president James E. Harris stated, "This group is now charged with the special responsibility of bringing to reality what originally started out as just a dream or idea. The work that must be done is of the most importance to us all; I, personally shall enjoy working with this committee of wonderful persons and by working together I am confident we shall be able to accomplish that what has to be done". The first meeting of the Executive Committee is called for the 15th of May.

Urges Action to Avoid Hardening, Bucks Arteries

Howard M. Barnes, the vice-chairman, former County Commissioner, Simon K. Moyer, presided. Other Planning Commissioners present were Robert W. Robinson, John L. Stover, William S. Erwin, Charles M. Meredith, former County Treasurer Elwood Britton and Harold Crooker.

The following sub-divisions were given approval: Samuel E. Stoop, Solebury township; Becker Farms, Bensalem township; Pebble Hill Acres, Doylestown township; Willowpen, Valley View, Upper Southampton township.

The following sub-divisions were given approval subject to certain revisions or for additional information: Longview Acres, Northampton township; Buckland Valley Farms, Upper Makefield township; Mapleview Terrace, Lower Southampton township; Scattergood Tract, Lower Makefield township; Rockdale Inc., George H. Wetherill, Bristol township; Frank Moll, Chalfont Borough; Reeder Mill Terrace, Solebury township; Somerton Hills, Lower Southampton township.

A report was made by Carl Wild, planning consultant, who told of progress being made by the Planning staff on the collection of data for the Planning study and for public information.

Maps and data completed were shown, showing the established zoning existing in potential industrial areas, proposed housing, major highways, public transportation, water and sewer facilities and drainage areas in the county.

Mr. Wild summarized maps and data still in progress, among which are ones showing existing land used, school locations and school districts. Two base maps are being made and will be available to local officers and other agencies when completed.

A set of maps was shown showing existing conditions in Lower Bucks County and the development possibilities. These maps it is stated are to be reproduced in colored slides and to be used at public meetings to stimulate interest in the Planning program.

The commission approved Mr. Wild's request to employ Russell Black as an associate consultant.

At Mr. Wood's suggestion, it was decided that the commission will be divided into two sub-committees, which will meet prior to the full commission each month to discuss details of the sub-divisions. Commissioners from the areas where the sub-divisions are located, will be members of the sub-committees, that will be chosen by Mr. Wood or Howard Barnes, chairman of the Planning Commission.

As of May 1st, the Commission decided that all final plans for sub-divisions must be accompanied by payment specified in the regulations: $10 for each plan and $1 for each lot in the tract.

Mr. Wood had met with seven group meetings in various parts of the county, during the past month. The commission will meet with township supervisors in the near future, to explain the Planning program.

The 15th of July is St. Swithin's day.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, May 8.

The United States Senate has a delightful opportunity to save us taxpayers a lot of grief between now and next March.

The House of Representatives has done so, in slicing more than six billion dollars from the President's requests for funds for operation of various government agencies during the 1953 fiscal year, which starts next July 1.

Unfortunately, however, the Senate usually reverses action taken by the House on spending bills and then, in conference, browbeats House members into accepting Senate wishes. There is one hope that 1952 may be different. Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, the Wyoming Democrat, who in the past seldom interfered with White House spending demands, recently jarred his colleagues by stating that he might look kindly on budget trimming this session. Of course, this could be no more than a soothing syrup for the consumption of voters and an effort to soften up House members who later will confer with the Senate on the spending bills.

Of unusual interest in Congres this year, also, is the action of the House in not only accepting House Appropriations Committee budget cuts, but in heaping further cuts on top of them. This is an exact reversal of normal procedure. Usually, Appropriations Committee members have done the trimming in a normal fashion and then had to endure a day or two of torture while White House members—some with particular local projects in mind and some simply blatant administration "yes-men"—ganged up to restore most of the cuts.

A compilation of House action this session reveals an historic precedent in this respect—historic at least, insofar as the past 20 years are concerned. For instance:

A total of $3,890,000 more was sliced off the Treasury-Post Office Appropriations Bill by the House, following a $72,690,000 cut by its Appropriations Committee below the budget requests.

Even more unusual, few House members argued with a $172,829,450 slash effected by the Committee in State, Commerce and Justice Department budgets, and, in fact added a $225,998,578 additional cut of their own once the bill reached the floor. This record 18.1 per cent reduction in this spending bill must have caused many an old-hand Fair Dealer a grimace of pain. It was rank heresy in days gone by, to even suggest a 1 per cent cut of anything involving appropriations, including funds for woodland dancers to keep defense workers happy.

Almost untouchable, in the past, have been Interior Department funds. This tight little island of political savvy usually gets what it wants because it has something for almost every Congressman by way of projects ranging in size from farm ponds to gigantic power and irrigation projects.

This year, the House Appropriations Committee knocked off $197,324,700, a cut of 21.3 per cent, from the Interior Department money request. The politically hep Secretary of Interior, Oscar Chapman, barely batted an eyelash. He had been through this before. The House as a whole would take care of this effort of insolence. But the impossible happened, with the House adding to Interior's pain by slicing another $6,186,510 from the spending bill. The final cut was 22.3 per cent.

Defense spending took the biggest cut in both the Appropriation Committee and the House as a whole. The cut was $4,417,945,216.

And, right or wrong, this is the saving that the Senate will probably leave alone. It probably will, if it follows a normal pattern, restore some or all of the economy cuts made by the House in non-military spending. But there is far less politics in military spending; far fewer votes to lose if a regiment of tanks or a squadron of airplanes is knocked out of the budget.

If the Senate really wants economy it will accept the House cuts in non-miltary agencies of the government. This is where the waste is gigantic, the boondogging frightful and the politics free wheeling. Instead of shrinking since the war, most non-military agencies of the government have continued to grow under the Fair Deal. It's about time the Senate adopted some of the common sense displayed by the House of Representatives. It's a sure thing that the bureaucrats and their boss in the White House never will.

Mrs. Watts Presides At "Hills" Club Installation

FAIRLESS HILLS, May 8 — The officers elected last month for Fairless Hills Women's Club were installed Tuesday at the May meeting in the community center. Mrs. George Harding took the oath of office as new president, with Mrs. Fred Watts, Morrisville, R. D. club sponsor, in charge of the ceremony.

Mrs. John Dacey, first vice-president, presided last evening.

Chairmen of the new committees as announced by Mrs. Harding, are: Mrs. Arthur Brown, finance; Mrs. Louis Hackett, historian; Mrs. Howard Pietsch, membership; Mrs. Edward McDonald, program; Mrs. William Williams, publicity; Mrs. Merle Bishop and Mrs. J. R. Hadd, hotsesses; Mrs. J. Pugh, sunshine, and Mrs. Renwick Miller, parliamentarian.

A skit, "Mock Meeting," was presented by the drama group. Participating were Mrs. S. R. Murphy, Mrs. Frank Ceraso, Mrs. Ronald Schillat, Mrs. John Kurtz, Miss Frances Eastburn, Mrs. John Dacey and Mrs. William Williams.

Mrs. Stephen Westby was announced as new chairman of the garden department. This department will visit a pansy farm near Bristol on May 14th; and will conduct its next meeting, with box luncheon, at the home of Mrs. L. R. Baker, Langhorne, May 28th.

The legislation and international relations department, of which Mrs. Michael Joyce is chairman, announced that members will accompany Trenton (N. J.) Y. W. C. A. on trips to the United Nations meetings, May 15th and 26th.

Mrs. Harding informed members of the program which took place at the spring meeting of Bucks Co. Federation of Women's Clubs in Doylestown. At that time, Mrs. C. Wilmer Fisher, Morrisville, federation president, presented Mrs. Harding with a gavel, also with a certificate of federation for the local club.

Refreshments concluded the meeting.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Let Him Do His Stuff

WASHINGTON, May 8.

—In the split and confused state in which the Democratic party now finds itself, the chances that Senator Estes Kefauver may merge from its convention as the presidential nominee appear to increase. It is interesting, too, that the closer General Eisenhower approaches the Republican nomination (and his striking victory in Massachusetts brings him very close, indeed) the larger the coonskin-capped Tennessean looms as the Democratic choice.

—o—

Strangely enough, this not due to any particular public appeal developed by Mr. Kefauver; nor to anything he has said, done or stands for. Rather, it is because of the situation that three leading Democrats—Mr. Truman, Chief Justice Vinson and Governor Stevenson—have created by refusing a nomination which they could have had. That, in itself, is unprecedented in party history. When the three best known and outstanding availables withdrew it left a field in which, on the basis of television conduct of his Crime Committee, Mr. Kefauver was almost the only active aspirant. Under these conditions he has been winning primaries and picking up votes because he was largely unopposed.

—o—

Yet there is no real desire among party leaders to nominate Mr. Kefauver. On the contrary, there is a strong distaste for him among many, from the President down, despite his primary vote. Nor is there any discernible demand for him among the people. Though Mr. Truman personally dislikes him, there is slight difference between them on policies. Senator Kefauver is strongly against sin but he has the same servile leanings toward the CIO, no convincing convictions about curtailing governmental waste or changing the drift toward socialism, which has marked our course for sixteen years. He is unbeloved in the South and not outstandingly poular anywhere, though there is some voting allure in his Salvation Army campaign methods.

—o—

Considering these things in connection with the concededly poor prospects of party success, it is not surprising there should be talk among Administration politicians (naturally anxious to avert a change) of "drafting" either Mr. Truman or Governor Stevenson notwithstanding their firm declarations that they are out. Certainly there is slight prospect that this "drafting" could be done. To make it possible both the President and the Governor would not only have to eat their words but also connive in the "draft." In addition, if the "draft" were achieved the chances of victory at the polls concededly would not be good—and both know it.

—o—

Nevertheless, the White House politicians insist that enough "pressure" can be applied, if not to force the President to change his mind at least to make Mr. Stevenson change his. Should the Republicans (who meet first) nominate Senator Taft it is conceded the chances of "drafting" one or the other would be greatly enhanced. On the other hand, should General Eisenhower become the Republican standard bearer it would become impossible "to draft" either. The reason is clear. If Mr. Taft is nominated, after overwhelming evidence of the popular desire for "Ike," the Democrats might be justified in believing he could be beaten. But with Eisenhower nominated, the Democratic candidate's hope of election would be so remote that the nomination would seem undesirable save to one who would rather belicked than not run at all. Under these circumstances, Kefauver would seem the logical man.

—o—

Neither the aged Vice President, Mr. Alben Barkley, nor the amiable Mr. Averell Harriman, nor the oil millionaire, Senator Robert Kerr, offer any better choice—if as good. As for Senator Richard Russell, of Georgia, who in ability and character is perhaps the outstanding man of them all, he can't be nominated —so it is said—because the party would lose every Negro vote in the pivatol states of the North and the labor-union support as well. In brief, the Democratic party has become so dependent on these organized minorities that no candidate is available who can't be "cleared" with them, On the Democratic side, all of them except Mr. Russell could be so "cleared"—and "Ike" easily would beat any of them.

—o—

Of course, the thing for which the Democrats pray is for the Republicans to turn down Eisenhower and nominate Taft. That is what they would love, but after Massachusetts few believe it is possible to be that stupid. Failure to get that "break" seems to leave them nowhere to go except to Kefauver. A few days ago one of his senatorial colleagues said: "He is just about the best we can do under the circumstances. Give him his old coonskin cap and let him do his stuff. If Eisenhower is the candidate he will take an awful shellacking, but 'the experience won't do him no harm' and there isn't anybody in sight who can do any better." This is a rather tough presentation but, while things change very quicky in politics, it is realistic as of today.

Schreiber Completes Indoctrination Training

SAMPSON AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y., May 8—Basic Airman Joseph Schreiber has completed four weeks of Air Force Indoctrination training, N. Y., Air Force officials announced here today.

Satterthwaite Herd Shows Up Fine in Its Test

BATTLEBORO, Vt., May 8—With an average 434 pounds of butterfat and 12,249 pounds of milk, the 18-cow herd of registered Holstein-Friesians owned by Milton C. Satterthwaite, Woodside, Pa., completed their test year recently. Their production averaged 18 quarts daily for each cow in the herd for the year. The testing was carried on under the official Herd Improvement Registry program of The Holstein-Friesian Ass'n of America.

Milking was done 2 times daily, and testing was supervised by Pennsylvania State College, in cooperation with the national Holstein headquarters.

Bastille day is observed in France each July 14th.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Bristol Township Elementary School

Maple Shade

On a recent Saturday the classes of Mr. Wielgolasky's fourth and fifth grade, Mr. Beck's fifth grade and Mrs. Friel's and Mrs. Lewis' sixth grades spent the day in Philadelphia.

Traveling by school bus their first stop was Independence Hall where the guide gave the pupils an excellent background of Early American History. He showed them the different buildings in this group, which are all of great historical importance. He allowed them to see and touch the Liberty Bell and also showed them the "Chair of the Rising Sun" where George Washington sat while signing the Declaration of Independance. He took the group into Congress Hall where the first Congress met to carry on business of the colonies.

The next place visited was Franklin Institute where reservations had been made at the Planetarium to see the show "Creation of the Universe."

Following lunch the children spent their remaining time in different parts of the Institute, climbed on the large locomotive, sat in the cockpit of the trainer plane in the Aviation Room, saw paper-making processes, inspected many old cars, bicycles, and fire engines, took pictures and last of all bought souvenirs to take home.

Edgely Primary

The first grades at Edgely Primary School visited Walnut Grove Farm recently. The children were escorted around the farm by Mrs. Loller, and Justine Loller. They saw many farm animals, including sheep and cows. They brought raw wool, corn, barley, potatoes and wheat grains back to school. This trip culminated a farm unit. The children now have had many real farm experiences which will help them better understand the stories which they will read.

Edgely Intermediate

To close their study of Holland, the children of the fourth grades in Edgely School constructed a typical Dutch village, complete with canals, dikes, windmills, and dairy farms.

Booklets were made as a memento of this unit.

The pupils also gave a program which included several Dutch songs and dances, a Dutch play, illustrated stories of the life in Holland taken from their study, plus an original poem entitled "The Land of the Dutch" written by one member of the class.

General News

Mrs. Joseph Beck and Mrs. Theodore Wallin of Edgely Elementary School and Mr. John Beck of Maple Shade attended the Geography Institute held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College recently.

A meeting of the eight head teachers of the Bristol Township Elementary Schools with Mrs. Dorothy McCollom, elementary Supervisor as chairman, was held recently at Maple Shade School. Plans were discussed for the end of this year and for the next term.

Pennsbury District

L. MAKEFIELD TWP., May 8—A breakfast is being planned by 17 junior girls and Thomas Daugherty, head of the school cafeteria at Pennsbury high, for May 23, at five o'clock, for the seniors of the high school who will leave for Washington, D. C.

Those girls are: Ruth Schaffer, chairman; "Connie" Wilson, Jo Hopkins, Iva Eckelmen, Patricia Dilliplane, B. Durante, Pauline Byers, Wilma Hume, Lois Cobb, Dee Meszaros, Carol Curtin, Alice DeCou, Veronika Krueger, Margo Dougherty, Marie Kellett, Eleanore Seaman, Dorothy Kellett.

Pennsbury high building, containing 24 classrooms, library, shop, gymnasium, art room, music room, auditorium, and offices can be vacated in two minutes and 13 seconds. Seven hundred students, 42 faculty members, eight administrative officers and seven others, move in orderly columns to places of safety outside the building.

"The last two drills were very fine. Student conduct and attention to details were quite satisfactory," quoted Joseph Rhorbaugh, vice-principal of the school.

The building is periodically inspected by the janitor and Mr. Rhorbaugh in accordance with a check list supplied by insurance companies.

Pennsbury assistant librarians have just issued a novel newspaper, P. A. L. News. The paper contains interviews, book reviews, and new book lists.

The main goal of the paper is to stimulate new reading interests.

The staff includes Ellen Beckwith, editor; John Samuels, art editor; "Betty" Birdsall, interviews; and Cade Brockelbank, reporter. All are assistant librarians.

Pennsbury high is forming plans for a book drive which will get underway this week. A program to obtain the co-operation of everyone has been planned. The goal is "more fiction books for the library." Alexander R. Griffin, the well-known author of "A Ship to Remember," will address the school assemblies on the importance of the book drive and launch the program.

A committee, "Chris" Griffin, chairman; Carliss McQuillen, and Harry Burwell, has made possible this assembly program. They have also planned many other activities which will be held to promote the drive.

The 10th grade biology and the advance biology classes of Pennsbury will take a trip to Barnegat, N. J., on May 26.

Students will leave the high school at 8.30 a. m., and return in the early evening. This trip is to collect and identify specimens of plant and animal life in that region.

The first annual choral concert of Pennsbury high was held May 2nd.

The program included: "Salutation" (Gaines), "I Heard a Forest Praying" (DeRose), "The Omnipotence" (Schubert), music by Barton Klemn, "Lost in the Night" (Christiansen), "All in the April Evening" (Robertson), "Nation's Prayer" (Franck), "O Lovely Heart" (Robertson), "If I But Knew" (Clokey), "Bless the Lord" (Ippolitoff-Ivanoff), "Water Ripple and Flow" (Czeck Folk Song), "Sing and Rejoice" (James), "One World" (Bratton - O'Hara - Wilson), "Stodola Pumpa" (Strickling), "Come Dance and Sing," "Ride the Chariot" (Negro spiritual), "When Day is Done" (Katcher), "Benediction" (Lutkin).

Also included were the girls' trio: "Tribute to Romberg," "I Talked to God," "Luxembourg Garden."

FOR YEARS!

MAGNIFIED CROSS-SECTION SHOWS SELF-CLEANING PROCESS
1. All paints collect dust and dirt during the first few months.
2. With Du Pont House Paint, a fine white powder forms after a few months on surfaces exposed to sun and weather.
3. Rains wash off this powder—and with it, much of the accumulated dirt and grime.
4. Self-cleaning leaves surface clean and white . . . keeps it sparkling white for years. This cleaning process is gradual and does not adversely affect the long life of the paint.
DU PONT HOUSE PAINT
cleans itself!
Your house stays clean and bright when it's painted with Du Pont House Paint. Made of specially blended pigments and oils, this unique paint actually sheds dirt and dust with every heavyrain! Normally, the "Self-cleaning" starts within a few months. However, excessive soot or heavy shade, or stains from metal surfaces such as copper screening, may interfere with or delay this process. Ask your Du Pont dealer or painter to tell you how the "Self-cleaning" process works in your area.
Keep your home looking beautiful years longer . . . insist on "Self-cleaning" Du Pont House Paint. It's available in Outside White or popular tints. And to insure maximum performance of the finish coat on bare wood or badly weathered paint, start with a coat of Du Pont House Paint Primer.

ELKS SOUTHEASTERN DISTRICT BOWLING LEAGUE

Sunday afternoon the Elks Southeastern District Bowling League came to a close with Bristol downing Reading Elks 7 out of 8 points in a double match game. There is now a tie between Bristol Elks and Pottstown Elks for first place and championship of the League which will be rolled off on neutral alleys next week.

It was one of the most exciting matches in the League. At the start, Bristol needed 8 points to beat Pottstown out of first place and 7 points to tie. Bristol came through the first game, then Reading took the second. From then on it was Bristol all the way with Reading breathing down their necks frame after frame until the last ball was thrown.

In the final game Bristol was down 6 marks in the 8th frame and came oattling through with strike after strike until the final frame ran an even game. The boys really put the pressure on Bob Wardrop, bowling anchor for Bristol. 3 strikes were needed in the final frame and Bob came through with a turkey to defeat Reading by one pin with a score of 893 to 892, and placed Bristol in playoff position with Pottstown. Andy Moore was high for Bristol with 611 while Polzmacher for Reading had 588.

RALPH GALIONE JOINS FIGHTER-BOMBER WING

"Thunderjets" of 136th Are Blasting Communists' Transportation

McGAHAN APPOINTED

136TH FIGHTER-BOMBER WING, KOREA, May 8—Airman 2/c Ralph J. Galione of Bristol, Pa., recently arrived in the Far East and has joined the 136th Fighter-Bomber Wing in Korea.

F-84 Thunderjets of the 136th Wing are hard at work blasting the Communists' rear-area rail and transportation facilities in the interdiction campaign outlined by Fifth Air Force. In combat since May 1951, the wing is credited with 82 enemy MIG-15 jet fighters destroyed or damaged in air-to-air combat. The wing is also credited with 4,125 rail cuts, 321 enemy supply trucks and 33 tunnels.

A/2c Galione enlisted in the Air Force in March 1949. After completing basic military training he attended diesel and electricians school at Warren AFB, Wyoming. Upon graduation he was assigned to 751st Aircraft Warning and Control Station, Mount Lakuna, California. He served there until his recent transfer.

His wife, Audora, lives at 1047 Pond street, Bristol.

TINKER AIR FORCE BASE, Okla., May 8 — M/Sgt. Harry J. McGahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGahan, 3rd and Leedom avenues, West Bristol, Pa., has received appointment as warrant officer, junior grade, in the U. S. Air Force. He took the warrant officer's oath and received his bars April 23.

McGahan since February, 1950, has served with the 2060th Mobile Weather Squadron, here, as motor sergeant in charge of the squadron's motor pool. He will continue his assignment as transportation supervisor.

With the exception of a brief 11-month period in 1946, McGahan has been on active duty with the Army and Air Force since June of 1942. During World War II, he served with the Army in the European and Pacific war theaters in transportation assignments. He joined the Air Force when re-entering military service in 1947 and since has been a member of the Air Weather Service.

During 1947 to 1949 he was on overseas assignment on Guam as an automotive shop foreman and first sergeant. During his duty with the 2060th Mobile Weather Squadron Warrant Officer McGahan and his wife, Orea, have resided in Midwest City, Okla.
